PARENTS, STUDENTS, START YOUR ENGINES!

Join Joe Broome M.A. LMHC in a lively conversation about what motivates students and what we as parents can do to help bring out the best of their gifts and talents. Joe will use the latest information from neuroscience and attachment research combined with his 12+ years of working with children and young adults ages 5-25 and their parents.

In this interactive and informative workshop you will learn some of the secret encoded messages in your student's unmotivated behavior, learn how to help unleash your student's motivation, and learn about some of the forces at play that make this such a difficult issue.

This idea packed workshop will be two hours and will go by in a blink of an eye. Even if your student is motivated, you will leave with ideas on how to maintain their vigor and bring joy into learning and life.
